RESOLUTION OF THE ARKANSAS PRESS ASSOCIATION RESPECTING FEDERAL TAX CENSORSHIP OVER PUBLIC POLICY ADVERTISING

ADDRESSED TO:

THE HONORABLE WILBUR MILLS, CHAIRMAN OF THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, AND THE HONORABLE HARRY BYRD, CHAIRMAN OF THE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

WHEREAS the Arkansas Press Association, in its annual convention assembled at Hot Springs, Arkansas, this 3rd day of June 1960, has considered the abridgment of free speech inherent in the present federal tax rulings and regulations of the Internal Revenue Service of the United States; respecting the deductibility for income tax purposes of expenditures for advertising and other public policy activities calling the public's attention to public issues and proposed legislation related thereto; and

WHEREAS such association has found that under such rulings and regulations, such Internal Revenue Service assumes the authority to determine whether such advertising or public policy activities shall or shall not be deductible as a business expense, and that deduction may be allowed or disallowed on the sole basis of this bureau's decision as to whether or not such advertising or similar activity constitutes an attempt to influence the enactment or defeat of proposed federal or state legislation, constitutional amendments, referendums, or local ordinances; and

WHEREAS such determinations in effect penalize, through administrative action, the right of free speech and the right to petition on issues basically affecting the civil and property rights of advertisers or others seeking public policy action, and thereby is repugnant to basic constitutional principles; and

WHEREAS it has ever been the duty and privilege of the press to defend the rights of free speech and petition against abridgment; and

WHEREAS the actions aforesaid of the Internal Revenue Service have never been authorized by Congressional statute nor has Congress by other action warranted the censorship aforesaid; and

WHEREAS it is the duty and prerogative of the Congress to appropriately legislate within the premises and in pursuance to the Constitution;

NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Arkansas Press Association hereby petitions your committees and the Congress of the United States that appropriate legislation be immediately enacted making clear that:

(1) The Authority heretofore assumed by the Internal Revenue Service in imposing a tax penalty on the exercise of free speech shall be discontinued forthwith, and that

(2) Such arbitrary tax censorship of public policy activities should be immediately terminated, and that

(3) Advertising to the public, views of the advertiser on matters which affect the advertiser's trade or business, shall not be disallowed on the basis that such matters are also the subject of pending legislation.

State Press Opposes Tax Censorship

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Press Assn. has adopted a resolution opposing censorship through federal taxation.

The association, meeting in convention here, took the action Friday after Alex H. Washburn, publisher of the Hope Star, discussed his pending fight over an income tax deduction.

The deduction had been disallowed because federal authorities said the money involved was used in efforts to influence legislation. The APA resolution said such Internal Revenue Service regulations, adopted without Congressional sanction, amount in the case of newspapers to abridgment of free speech.

Under IRS rules, money spent to influence legislation cannot be deducted as a business expense. This rule was cited as authority for refusing Washburn's 1955 claim for about $6,000 in connection with write-off expenses for a campaign in which he sought a statewide referendum on a state legislative act.

The resolution adopted by the APA asked Congress to remove from the IRS the authority to decide arbitrarily whether a claimed deduction is a legitimate business expense.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Large Hope Group at B&PW Meet

One of the largest convention delegations in the history of the Hope B. & P. W. Club went to Little Rock for the convention this weekend. The Southwest District was the hostess group, and the Hope Club was in charge of the banquet on Friday night.

Hope Club President Mrs. Roy Stephenson presided over that part of the meeting, and the Watermelon Theme was the natural choice for the table decorations. A red and green color scheme and watermelons made of styrofoam were used. The tables also held samples of different Hope products.

Those from Hope who went for the Friday sessions were Mrs. Roy Mouser, Mrs. Ted Maryman, Mrs. Cecil Delaney, and Mrs. G. O'Bryant. Hope was represented the entire weekend by Mrs. Opal Hervey, Mrs. Charlene Eaton, Miss Charlene Wiggins, Mrs. Paul Klipsch, Mrs. Mildred Rogers, Miss Rosa Harris, Mrs. C. A. Williams, Miss Opal Daniel, Mrs. W. A. Mudgett, Mrs. Dora Wilson, and Mrs. Stephenson.

W. S. Gordon, 83, Formerly of Hope, Dies

William Simms Gordon, aged 83, a former resident of Hope, died Saturday at the home of a son, Lester Gordon, at Nacogdoches, Texas. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Madison of the U. S. Navy, Alvin Gordon of Hope; two daughters, Mrs. Coburn Simpson of North Little Rock and Mrs. Henry Davis of Little Rock.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at New Hope Primitive Baptist Church near Patmos. Burial by Henderson-Cornelius was in New Hope Cemetery.

Soldiers Held for Assault on Man

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Two young AWOL soldiers were held here on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after a 72-year-old motorist was waylaid and pistol whipped.

Held were Hiram Donald Cole and Joseph Norman Cole, 18-year-old cousins from Winston-Salem, N.C. police said they were AWOL from Fort Bragg, N.C. C. R. Darnell, 72, of Dallas, Tex., was treated for severe head lacerations and released from a Hot Springs hospital.

Police said two young men stopped Darnell on the highway on the pretext that their car had broken down. They began beating him but were frightened by another motorist and ran into some woods.

The Cole cousins were arrested in the woods some time later. A pistol was recovered. Officers said robbery was the motive for the beating.

Medical School Graduates 86

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The University of Arkansas Medical School graduated 86 doctors-to-be yesterday in its annual spring commencement.

Twenty-one diplomas were awarded in the School of Nursing and 20 in the School of Pharmacy and seven in the School of Medical Technology.

Dr. Herbert E. Longenecker, president-elect of Tulane University and the commencement speaker, told the graduates that they must keep the human touch in their coming years of practice.

"High quality health service cannot be mechanical," he said. "It is the result of well-educated minds, warm hearts and practiced hands."

Jap Socialists to Quit Over Ike's Visit

TOKYO (AP)—The Socialist bloc in Parliament today formally approved its mass resignation in a pressure move aimed at ousting Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and washing out President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Socialist leaders hoped the mass resignation would arouse public opinion to force Kishi to dissolve Parliament before the U.S. Japan security treaty automatically takes effect June 19—the day Eisenhower is due to arrive.

The big national labor federation, Sohyo, called a national convention Wednesday and Thursday against Kishi, the security pact and the Eisenhower visit.

The "People's Council to Block the Security Pact," spearheaded by the Socialists and Sohyo, announced a timetable on its anti-government campaign emphasizing protests against the President's visit.

Included are demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy June 10 when a white house advance party, led by presidential press secretary James G. Hagerty, arrives; "May Day-like" demonstrations throughout the country June 11 with 200,000 expected to take part in protest rallies around the Parliament building and the U. S. Embassy; a series of work stoppages June 16-17, climaxed by a strike on the 17th and mass marches with demonstrators wearing mourning on the day Eisenhower arrives.

Kishi as declared he intends to stand fast behind the invitation to the President "no matter what may come." He also has said he will not resign until after the treaty is in effect.

The left-wing Socialists have only 125 members in the 467-seat lower house of the Diet—not enough to legally force dissolution of Parliament.

The more moderate Democratic Socialists, with 40 seats, are not joining in the walkout. With 288 seats, Kishi's ruling Liberal-Democratic party has a quorum to carry on business. Some Japanese newspapers speculated the government party would reject the Socialist resignations.

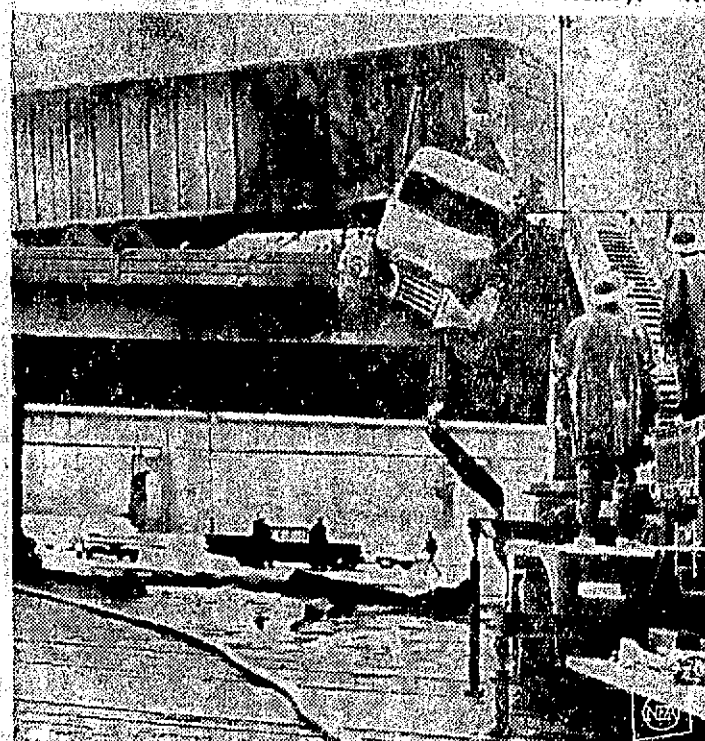

The Socialists handed their resignations to party chairman Inejiro Asanuma, who is expected to hand them to the house speaker Tuesday.

Kyodo news service reported that the government would in-

Negro Goes to Trial in Bombing Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Maceo Antonio Binns, a 31-year-old Negro, goes on trial tomorrow in Pulaski Circuit Court on charges growing out of the Feb. 9 bombing of the home of a Negro student.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has been subpoenaed as a witness by the defense. He did not say whether he would appear at the trial.

Binns and Herbert Odell Monts, 17, were charged in the blast which caused minor damage at the home of Carlotta Walls, one of five Negro students who attended integrated Central High this year.

Monts was convicted May 17 and sentenced to five years in prison. The case is on appeal.

Binns' attorney said he wanted Faubus to explain a statement the governor made shortly after the bombing. Faubus said he had information a Negro had been paid $50 to do the bombing.

Man Held for Robbery-Rape at DeQueen

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP)—Marvin Combs, 22, was charged with robbery and rape today in connection with an attack yesterday on a woman taxi driver.

Sheriff Cecil Dillahunty said the youth is AWOL from the Army at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The woman, Mrs. Joyce Sanders, 41, was recovering from shock in a hospital here.

Combs threatened to shoot officers when he was arrested in bed at 12:45 a.m. in the nearby Chapel Hill community, but his .22 caliber rifle jammed.

Mrs. Sanders told officers Combs hired her cab late yesterday to go to the Oklahoma state line about seven miles west of DeQueen, he had her turn off a side road on the pretext that he wanted to see some fishing companions.

When they reached a wooded area, Mrs. Sanders said, Combs forced her to stop the car and attacked her. He also robbed her of $50, she said. After the attack, he ran into the woods.

Dillahunty said no weapon was used in the attack.

Mrs. Sanders drove back to DeQueen and reported the incident. Combs launched a manhunt for Combs that led to Chapel Hill.

Prosecutor Gordon Carlton filed the robbery and rape charges today.

Final Rites for Mrs. Bennie A. Boswell Today

Mrs. Bennie A. Boswell, aged 70, died Saturday in a local hospital. She was a member of Garrett Memorial Baptist Church.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Wilma Boswell of Hope, Mrs. Lucille Neuman-ter of Walnut, Ky., Mrs. Bernice Ellen of Little Rock and Mrs. Ruth Miller Vann of Magnolia, two brothers, L. E. Deaton of Texarkana and Jess Deaton of Houston, Texas.

Services were to be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at Garrett Memorial Baptist Church by Rev. A. D. Livingston. Burial by Henderson-Cornelius will be in Roseon April 11, 1959, of rape of a white widow.

Forest City Injunction Is Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today refused to disturb a permanent injunction preventing Mayor Howell B. Price and members of the West Memphis City Council from contracting with themselves for materials supplied by the city.

The Supreme Court rejected two points on which Price and his associates appealed from a ruling of Chancellor Lee Ward of Jonesboro in a suit brought by Cecil U. Edmonds of West Memphis.

One point was that Ward erred in denying their motion to "make more definite and certain" Edmonds' complaint. The court said the allegations in the original complaint were ample.

The second appeal point was there was no prohibition against contracting for materials—only for services.

Although granting the injunction, Ward refused to order repayment of money Edmonds alleged the mayor and councilmen had illegally obtained through the contracts.

This part of his decision was not before the Supreme Court today.

Chief Justice Carleton Harris and Justice Ed P. McFaddin dissented in part to the decision written by Justice Jim Johnson.

Club Property Case Okayed by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The right of trustees to sell the present Boys Club property at Fifth and Main Streets in downtown Pine Bluff and use the proceeds for construction of another building elsewhere was upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court today.

The unanimous opinion quoted at length from a ruling of Jefferson Chancellor Lawrence A. Dawson, who also had approved the sale.

Both the chancellor and the high court ratified the proposed sale even though Joseph Merrill, who donated the property in 1889 had said it should not be sold.

The sale was proper "to accomplish the larger purpose of the charitable trust," McFaddin said.

Merrill set up the Merrill Institute, which has continued to the present, for the benefit of Pine Bluff youngsters. He gave it the now-valuable property. In recent years the property, under supervision of the Merrill trustees, has been used for a Boys Club in keeping with the donor's intention.

A person who was not identified in the Supreme Court opinion has offered a tract in a residential area for a new building and the trustees plan to sell the present property for $150,000.

Death Sentence Again Confirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—For the second time the Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed the death sentence of Lennie B. Mitchell, El Dorado Negro, for rape.

The Supreme Court upheld Union Circuit Court in refusing to vacate the sentence after the high court had ratified it on appeal.

The Supreme Court said no new questions were raised and the Circuit Court had no authority to vary the already-affirmed judgment.

Machinists at Missile Bases Go on Strike

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Union machinists today struck key Atlas missile bases from California to Florida—first walk out in labor disputes that could tie up a major portion of the aircraft-missile industry.

Among those hit is the huge missile base at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the nation's major missiles are tested.

At the cape, 800 members of the International Assn. of Machinists set up picket lines that were observed by sympathetic members of other unions. Launchings and construction activities were expected to be slowed.

Also hit were Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., site of the only operational launch pads for the Atlas intercontinental rocket, Warren AFB, Wyo., and Offutt AFB, Neb.

The midnight walkout was aimed at the Convair Division of General Dynamics, which makes the Atlas.

Picketts appeared at the headquarters plant here this morning, urging workers to attend a mass meeting. Union officials said the local work stoppage was not a strike but only a stoppage—at least until after the meeting.

Strikes authorized by union members—but not yet called—threatened production of such other defense items as the submarine-launched Polaris missile, and the Midas, Samos and Discoverer satellites.

Polaris is made by Lockheed's Missile & Space Division, with solid-fuel engines supplied by Aerojet-General. The TAM is expected to file a strike notice Friday at Lockheed, which also makes the second stage of the Midas, Samos and Discoverer satellites. Atlas will power the Midas missile-detecting and the Samos television-reconnaissance satellite.

At Douglas Aircraft Co., maker of the Thor, IRBM and other missiles, the TAM has authorized a strike if necessary against the El Segundo plant, and a similar authorization is expected Wednesday for the Santa Monica, Calif., plant. Union officials from Long Beach, Calif., Tulsa, Okla., and Charlotte, N. C., plants meet Sunday to consider giving Douglas a seven-day contract termination notice.

The strike could halt Atlas test firing at Cape Canaveral and Vandenberg.

Club Property Case Okayed by Court

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—About 800 union machinists struck this missile test center today and members of some other unions honored the picket lines in a move that could slow launchings and construction activity here.

Local 610 of the International Assn. of Machinists went on strike at midnight in a contract dispute with Convair Astronautics, which makes the Atlas intercontinental range missile.

Picket lines were established on roads leading to both entrances to the cape. When the main work force arrived at 8 a.m., many other unionists refused to cross the lines in sympathy.

The Air Force, which runs the base, said it may be several hours before it can be determined just how many of the approximately 5,000 cape union workers are affected.

Members of the Transport Workers Union and several building trades unions reportedly respected the picket lines. The TWU, with 1,500 members, is the largest at the cape.

The two, Ken Kaiser and Dale Dullman, left Bonndji, Minn., May 26 and arrived at Vicksburg, Miss., at 10:30 a.m. yesterday. They left shortly thereafter for New Orleans.

The men are traveling in an outboard motor boat.

HARD PURSUED

Chapter XIX

Rigby stood up. He drew in the played-out rope and began coiling
it. "All right, Sam. The paper will be signed and filed soon as we get back to town. You've got no worry, Sam."

"Maybe not," Tull said and stood up, too. "Some of the outfit is getting ready to bed down."
"No sense stumbling around this mountain in the dark."

"I see it different," Tull said.
"If Jordan does any riding, he's going to do it by night. I'm saddling up and having a look around."

"Back toward the Brewster place, Sam? It's still Buckner you're hunting, not Jordan."

"Looking for one, maybe I run into the other, Spence."

They both walked toward the fire. Buckner began crawling backwards. He got to the timber and eased through it to where he had left his horse. He swung into the saddle. This gulch was indeed to be Hatchet's base camp, but tomorrow the outfit would be spread thin. Should he wait for daylight and their departure, or should he try getting past the camp tonight?

Debating, he heard a horse move along the trail through the timber, heading down toward the road at the end of the gulch. Sam Tull, going back to the Brewster place.

Anger stirred in him again. He listened to the diminishing sounds of Tull's passage and knew what for a specific firm.

Members of the three-judge court will be Judge Marion C.
of St. Louis, Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith and Judge Gordon E. Young of Little Rock.

his own course would be, wise or not. He followed the trail out of the gulch, turned right onto the old road, and dropped downhill after Tull, keeping his mount to a walk.

Farther down and into the foothills, the country widened and the trees thinned out, and he had little trouble keeping Tull in sight.

Now the time had come to overtake the man. He lifted the borrowed gun from its holster and put spurs to his horse and came hard after Tull. As he closed the distance between them, he shouted, "Hatchet! Ho!"

"The shout was to make Tull think that the man on the back-trail was a Hatchet hand, sent after him by Spence Rigby. Tull swung his horse around, his hand came thundering upon him, gun dropping toward his gun. Buckner in hand and shouting, "Up with em, Tull! Up, or I'll blow you out of that saddle!"

Recognition flared in Tull's eyes too late. The man's first astonishment gave way to a cold anger;
his expression showing plainly his temptation to make a play in the face of that naked gun. Then he decided he'd better not. His hands went up. Buckner rode close to him and plucked the six-shooter from Tull's holster and tossed it aside. "Get down, Tull," he said.

Tull dismounted and stood with his hands up, his face wooden in the moonlight. Buckner swung down from his own saddle and dropped the reins.

"You made talk in the back room of the Frontier last night," Tull, he said. "I was to be worked over, with six men to do the job. Fist and boot. This afternoon you had more to say. A yellow-bellied jailbird you called me.
You wanted me to fight the way

a man would. All right, I'm ready."

He took a step toward Tull. Tull understanding showed on Tull's face then, and this was the only time Buckner had ever seen a light of pure joy in the man's eyes. Tull lowered his arms and came at him swinging wildly. He parried that onslaught with his left arm and got under Tull's clumsy guard with his right fist in a meaty blow to the jaw. He put all his shoulder behind that blow. It lifted Tull from his feet and landed him hard on the back of his neck. He thought he had knocked Tull unconscious with that lucky punch, but Tull rolled over and got dazedly to his hands and knees, shaking his head.

"Get up," Buckner shouted.

Tull stayed on his hands and knees, groggy and befuddled.
Buckner reached for Tull, and suddenly the red rage lifted from his brain, and in that moment he knew exactly what had goaded him along Tull's trail and moved him to shuck his coat and come at Tull with fists swinging.

He had vented on Tull the rage that had built in him ever since he had heard from Pru Lane about Dorcas's intended marriage.

Within a period of a few hours
Saturday, the State Department:
1. Said it was disgusted with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrush-
chev's bitter attacks on President
Eisenhower. It accused Khrushchev of trying to degrade international relations and confuse the issue of the Paris summit conference collapse.

2. Protested to Havana that the Fidel Castro regime was building
an intense official campaign of slander against the United States.
It said the Cuban government
was trying to sow distrust and animosity while claiming to seek friendship and understanding.

President Eisenhower, without naming Khrushchev, also hit back
at the personal criticism of him
which has been coming from Moscow.

In a commencement address
Sunday at the University of Notre Dame, he degraded "the enemies of human dignity" the leaders who "brandish angry epithets,
slogans and satellites."

Earlier, Eisenhower had said in a talk at West Point, N.Y., that Khrushchev's "ill tempered expressions" had made the Western alliance stronger than ever. That time mentioned the Soviet leader
by name.

The weekend statement issued
by Secretary of State Christian A.
Hertter through the State Department was aimed directly at Khrushchev and his "personal attempts at vilification."

"All America, I am sure, shares
the disgust I feel at the ill-tempered attacks emanating from Mr.
Khrushchev," Hertter said. "His remarks reflect credit neither to
himself nor on his government."

There was no immediate Soviet reaction to the statements by El-senhower and Hertter.

Havana responded quickly to
the U.S. protest. Castro's Ministry
of Foreign Relations rejected it.
The ministry said a reply to the U.S. complaints would be made
in good time.

U. S. Blasts Criticism of Russia, Cuba

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has fired back at the increased salvos of criticism coming from the Soviet Union and Cuba.

Within a period of a few hours
Saturday, the State Department:
1. Said it was disgusted with
Soviet Premier Nikita Khrush-
chev's bitter attacks on President
Eisenhower. It accused Khrush-
chev of trying to degrade international relations and confuse the
issue of the Paris summit conference collapse.

2. Protested to Havana that the Fidel Castro regime was building
an intense official campaign of
slander against the United States.
It said the Cuban government
was trying to sow distrust and
animosity while claiming to seek
friendship and understanding.

President Eisenhower, without
naming Khrushchev, also hit back
at the personal criticism of him
which has been coming from Moscow.

In a commencement address
Sunday at the University of Notre Dame, he degraded "the enemies of human dignity" the leaders who "brandish angry epithets,
slogans and satellites."

Earlier, Eisenhower had said in
a talk at West Point, N.Y., that Khrushchev's "ill tempered expressions" had made the Western alliance stronger than ever. That time mentioned the Soviet leader
by name.

The weekend statement issued
by Secretary of State Christian A.
Hertter through the State Department was aimed directly at Khrushchev and his "personal attempts at vilification."

"All America, I am sure, shares
the disgust I feel at the ill-tempered attacks emanating from Mr.
Khrushchev," Hertter said. "His remarks reflect credit neither to
himself nor on his government."

There was no immediate Soviet
reaction to the statements by El-
senhower and Hertter.

Havana responded quickly to
the U.S. protest. Castro's Ministry
of Foreign Relations rejected it.
The ministry said a reply to the U.S. complaints would be made
in good time.

McCulley-Lee
Wedding Solemnized

On Sunday afternoon, May 29, Bette Ann McCulley and Wayne Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Lee of Boscaw, were united in marriage at the home of the bride, the occasion marking the 50th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. McCulley. Dr. John McClanahan officiated at the double-ring ceremony, which took place before a setting of lemon leaf greenery flanked by matching pedestal floor baskets containing sundried arrangements of pink gladioli.

The bride was lovely in a waltz gown of candlelight satin designed with an overskirt and fitted bolero of Chantilly lace. To complement her bracelet length sleeves she wore matching lace mits which came to petal points over her hands. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a flower petal nylon bandeau. She wore a pearl necklace with a matching tear drop earrings, and carried a white bible on which rested a spray of white Thaleopsis orchids.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Gladys Evelyn McGhee of Texarkana, who was attired in blue nylon organdy designed with a bouffant skirt, fitted torso and cowl neckline, with which she wore blue satin pumps and tiny flower petal hat with veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink asters.

Serving the groom as best man was Mr. Denton May of Texarkana.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCulley chose a blue linen dress with which she wore white accessories and pinned a cateleya orchid corsage at her shoulder. Mrs. Lee, mother of the groom was attired in a dress of charcoal linen with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception table was covered with a floor-length cloth of pink tulle overlaid with white nylon net. The centerpiece was an artistic arrangement of tiny rose buds in a crystal bowl. The beautiful three tiered cake, decorated with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. David McGhee, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Ernest Ridgill presided at the punch bowl and Miss Elaine Thomason, of Arkadelphia cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Irene Elms of Bakerfield, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Z. Hally and daughter, Carolyn, of Stuttgart, Ark., Mr. Travis Lee of Boscaw, Mr. Herman Shanahan of Weatherford, Tex., Fred Thomason, Rev. and Mrs. James Robinson, Mr. David A. McGhee and John David, All of Texarkana.

For travel the bride chose a white sheath dress embroidered in blue, with which she wore white accessories and pinned the orchids from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder. After a trip to points of interest in La., the couple will reside in Shreveport where the groom is employed.

Damage Suit Back to Lower Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A presiding judge's order in a lawsuit in which the jury originally awarded less than $100 damages caused the case to be sent back to lower court by the Arkansas Supreme Court today.

A jury in Craighead Circuit Court at Jonesboro awarded J.B. Brickett $63.10 against Tom Womack and Poy Womack in connection with a collision. The award was for medical and hospital expense.

The trial judge told the jury there should be an additional judgment for pain and suffering. The jury then awarded Brickett another $100, making the total $163.10.

The Supreme Court said the instruction was improper. It remanded the case to the Circuit Court for a new trial.

Insurance
Award Goes
to Mr. Bates

M. S. Bates, General Agent for Pioneer Western Life Insurance Company in Hope and resident of Hope, has been awarded the National Quality Award by Life Insurance Agency Management Association, Hartford, Conn., and the National Association of Life Underwriters in Washington, D. C. It was announced this week by Frank Whitbeck, President of his company.

Approximately 14,000 life underwriters throughout the United States earned this award for 1959. Usually 50 underwriters out of approximately 4,000 in Arkansas achieve this recognition each year.

The National Quality Award is given to an individual who has been in the life insurance business for a period of two years or more, and is based on volume and quality of business.

Bates has consistently been a leader at Pioneer Western Life since entering the life insurance business in 1955, Whitbeck said.

Portion of Waterfront
Act Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld a section of the New York Waterfront Commission Act which bars persons convicted of felonies from serving as officers of the International Longshoremen's Assn.

Justice Frankfurter wrote the majority opinion in the 5-3 decision. Justice Douglas dissented in an opinion in which Chief Justice Warren and Justice Black joined.

Justice Harlan took no part. Frankfurter's opinion in upholding the New York law said that the state "ought not to punish ex-felons, but to devise what was felt to be a much-needed scheme of regulation of the waterfront, and for the effectuation of that scheme it became important whether individuals had previously been convicted of a felony."

The court acted on an appeal by George De Veau, who was secretary-treasurer of Local 1346 of ILA.

In 1922 De Veau pleaded guilty to taking an automobile for a joy ride. He was given a suspended sentence and put on probation for five years.

In 1957 the union suspended him from office. His appeal to the Supreme Court said the reason given was that other officers were in danger of prosecution under the law if they continued to collect dues while De Veau was an officer of the local.

De Veau challenged validity of the section in New York State courts, but they decided against his contentions.

Cooperative Bandit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When Alice Brothers left the men's wear store Sunday after purchasing a necktie, she sensed there was something unusual about the clerk asking her to show him where the neckties were.

She was right. The clerk was a bandit who waited on her while his accomplice was taking $153 from the owner, Morris Greenberg, in a back room. The two bandits escaped.

DOROTHY DIX

Sour Notes Sound
On Once Happy Marriage

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I am 20, my husband 32. We belong to the same church and are both singers in the choir. Our director tells us how we should sing our parts, gives us special songs to learn and wants us to help each other. My husband tells me the parts I sing right and the parts I need help on. But if I try to help him, he says that he will sing as he wants. He says he's right and the director and I are wrong.

When we married in 1955 we didn't have anything but ourselves and we were very happy. Now we have a home of our own, a car, and after my praying hard for a baby, I'm expecting. But we are very unhappy.

Everything I do is wrong in my husband's eyes. I get up Sunday mornings early, get him a big breakfast, cook dinner, then make ready for church. If I leave the comb, or house shoes, or robe in the bathroom because of being in a hurry, he gets angry. If I want to use the car, he tells me no. I will burn up his gas.

He comes home from work angry. I say, "What's wrong darling?" He shouts, "Nothing!" and stays like that for days. I am deeply hurt. Should I have my child and then get a divorce? Stay or go, I'll still feel the hurt in my heart. —Hurt Soul

Dear Hurt Soul: The root of your trouble is undoubtedly the music. You can't have two lead singers in the same family. It just won't work. I spent 20 years of my life among musicians and I know whereof I speak. If you want your happy home life back, you'll have to play second fiddle. Your husband is acting like all frustrated musicians. You may sing better than he, which makes it even worse. A case in point was that of Leopold Stokowski, the conductor, and his first wife, Olga Samaroff, concert pianist. She was a fine musician, perhaps better than he. Their marriage finally crashed. In explaining the why and wherefore, Stokowski said, "Olga was always so right."

Retreat into the background. If your husband's notes are sour, say nothing. If, by chance, he does sing well, praise him extravagantly. Let me know the results.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My girl friend has been going with the same boy two years. He's nice but we don't think him good enough for her. She's so sweet and loved by everyone. She used to be in our crowd. We'd like to get her back but this boy hangs around all the time. He's tied to his mother's apron strings and always buying things or giving his parents money. Then when it comes to our friend, he's too broke to take her out. Instead of getting his own car fixed, he drives hers, but for the most part sits around watching TV.

It's been going on like this since they first started dating and probably always will. When they marry, she'll be the one to support that family. She's only 17. Help us to help her out of this rut. —Friend of L.T.

Dear Friend of L.T.: Hands off! This is a matter for the girl and you, to decide. Maybe she prefers the spineless L.T. You can't go about wrapping people in cotton-balling. No matter how much you long to protect them, they'll get their share of hard knocks in one way or another. It's life's way of disciplining us and a good thing it is too. As I write, this is the first of a verse, my mother often quoted to me:

"Is the set of the sails,
Not the storm and strife,
Which decide our course in life?"

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am 23 years old, work and go to night school. My interests often surpass in scope and variety those of most people. I meet how can I find someone who is congenial for a friend? I should like to meet a nice girl with whom I could talk things out. Would you know of a reputable agency or some one person who could help me? —P.W.

Dear P.W.: In all conscience I could not, and would not if I could, recommend any agency peddling friendship as a commercial commodity. Theodore Wilson who wrote "Through the Bible" once said, "Friendship is purchased only by friendship." I like that. In other words, to have a friend you must be a friend. Is loyalty, self-sacrifice or consideration for others an integral part of your character? Are you prepared to be a sympathetic listener? Do you honestly care what happens to those around you? Would you rather give than receive? If so, you will be a friend worth having. Surely there must be one person in your town whose interests are yours. Look him or her up. Introduce yourself by note. Say you are doing so on the basis of mutual interests. Mention one. Suggest a meeting and, since you are taking the initiative, be host.

Send your problem to "Dorothy Dix." Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Castoffs Keep White Sox on Winning Side

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago White Sox boss Bill Veck created a lot of excitement in the Windy City by landing such big fish as Minnie Minoso, Gene Lerner and Roy Sievers in major trades since the close of last season.

There was hardly a ripple, however, when he hauled in a couple of nondescript pitchers, southpaw Frank Baumann and right-hander Russ Kemmerer, in minor transactions with rival American League clubs.

Yet it's just because of these one-time hapless hurlers that the defending champions are back in the thick of the AL pennant race today, only three games behind the first-place Baltimore Orioles.

Kemmerer, who rarely won for Washington, and Baumann, off-benched with Boston turned in back-to-back 2-0 shutouts in the White Sox doubleheader sweep over Kansas City Sunday.

The 28-year-old Kemmerer purchased May 18 doled out three hits to win his second since joining the Sox. Baumann, obtained in a winter trade for first base flop Ron Jackson, limited the A's to seven hits in the nightcap for his second straight shutout.

The double triumph enabled the third-place Sox to climb to within one game of runner-up Cleveland, which split with Detroit. The Indians won 9-0 after the Tigers had taken the opener 7-2. Baltimore widened its lead to two games over the Indians with a 6-5 decision in Washington. New York slapped down Boston twice 5-4 and 8-3.

In the National League, Philadelphia's lowly Phils stunned Pittsburgh by sweeping a pair from the league-leading Pirates 2-0 and 4-1. St. Louis Pirates, San Francisco 9-4 and the Chicago Cubs outslugged Los Angeles 12-4. Cincinnati and Milwaukee split, the Reds winning the opener 3-2 and the Braves taking the second game 4-1.

Chicago newcomers Freese and Minoso also were key operators in the White Sox' first game victory. Freese doubled in the fourth and scored on Luis Aparicio's single to end a scoreless pitching duel between Kemmerer and Dick Hall. Minoso's seventh homer added an insurance run in the sixth.

Another comparative White Sox newcomer, Ted Kluszewski, scored the first run in the nightcap after hitting a double in the second inning. Sherin Lollar's single scored him. Neal Gaver, who had to have after two innings because of a knee injury, was tagged with his fifth loss.

The Sox have won six of their last 12. Baumann and Kemmerer have been responsible for four of the triumphs.

Crippled Phils Hand Pirates a Double Loss

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You'll have to pardon the Pittsburgh Pirates if they refuse to sympathize with the oft-defeated, much-depleted and last-seeded Philadelphia Phillies.

Expected to follow up their first-place National League lead Sunday over the undermanned Phils, who have four men in the hospital and others who at times play like sick men, the Pirates absorbed two strutting defeats in which they were held to a total of one run. The scores were 2-0 and 4-1.

In the opener, Pittsburgh managed 10 hits off Gene Conley but the 6-8 right-hander did not permit a Pirate runner to go beyond second base. The Blues also out-hit the Phils in the nightcap, but they barely avoided being shut out again, by Jim Owens, thanks to Dick Stuart's homer in the eighth.

St. Louis' 9-4 triumph over San Francisco enabled the Pirates to finish the day with a one-game lead over the Giants. Milwaukee closed to within 4 1/2 of the lead by splitting with Cincinnati. The Braves won 4-1 after Cincinnati had copped the opener 3-2. Chicago's Cubs outslugged Los Angeles 12-8.

Baltimore increased its AL lead to 2 games over Cleveland with a 6-5 decision over Washington as Detroit held the Indians even in a twin bill. The Tigers won the first game 7-2 and the Indians took the school 9-0. Chicago's White Sox whipped Kansas City 2-0 twice. New York swept Boston 5-4 and 8-3.

The Phils got 5 hits in each game to hang tough defeats on Bob Friend and Harvey Haddix. First-inning singles by Bobby Del Greco and Tony Taylor and Tony Murry's scoring grounder were enough to account for the opener. Home runs won the nightcap for the Phils. Haddix allowed but two hits in six innings but one was Ted Lepcio's first home run of the season. Cal Neuman's three-run clout off reliever Jim Umbrecht in the seventh was the clincher.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mary Kerkisek of Stuttgart was named Miss Chick, queen of the Arkansas Poultry Festival, here Saturday night.

had numerous operations. In spite of his ailment—or perhaps because of it—he decided to be a doctor.

He enrolled in Hendrix College as a pre-medical student in 1937 and was graduated with a degree in chemistry in 1941. That is when he decided to be realistic. Instead of enrolling in medical school, he took a job with the state.

Then, in 1945, the development of penicillin enabled doctors to control his osteomyelitis with operations, and the dream to be a doctor was reborn. But his family had grown and the dream had to be put off.

Finally, in 1955 he took the plunge. His wife took a job as a school teacher to support the family, and Vaughter enrolled in Hendrix for a year of pre-med studies. He entered the University School of Medicine in 1956.

Vaughter said he would intern for a year at St. Vincent Infirmary here. Then he plans to become a general practitioner in some small Arkansas town.

"I'm just a country boy," he explained.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—William Roger Vaughter, 42, received his medical degree yesterday to realize an ambition he abandoned 19 years ago.

On hand as Vaughter got his diploma at commencement exercises were his wife and two sons, aged 17 and 14.

Vaughter, who grew up at Conway, suffered from osteomyelitis—a bone infection—as a child. He
